Cisco Systems, Inc., Envoy Technologies Inc., iMatix Corporation, IONA Technologies ,JPMorgan Chase Bank & Co., Red Hat, Inc., TWIST Process Innovations, and 29West Inc. (the "Parties") are developing the "Advanced Message Queuing Protocol Specification" (the "Specification"). The Parties would like to receive input, suggestions and other feedback ("Feedback") on the Specification. In return, you are being granted the opportunity to provide Feedback which may impact the Specification being adopted. By signing below, You (herein, You means the individual if providing Feedback solely on that individual's behalf or a company, if the Feedback is being provided by authorized representatives of that company) grant the Developers under all applicable intellectual property rights owned or controlled by You a non-exclusive, non-transferable, worldwide, perpetual, irrevocable, royalty-free license to use, disclose, copy, publish, license, modify, sublicense or otherwise distribute and exploit Feedback You provide for the purpose of developing and promoting the Specification and in connection with any product that implements and complies with the Specification. You warrant to the best of your knowledge that You have right to provide this Feedback and to grant the above license. You also acknowledge that the Developers are not required to incorporate Your Feedback into any version of the Specification. By signing below You further agree that You will maintain all Confidential Information disclosed to You under this Agreement, including drafts of the Specification, in confidence. All copies of any Confidential Information shall retain the "confidential" or similar legend affixed thereto. Unless the parties agree otherwise, this obligation of confidentiality will expire five (5) years from the date the Confidential Information was disclosed to You. For the purposes of this Agreement, information shall be considered "Confidential Information" when, (i) tangible disclosures are labeled as "confidential" or have a similar legend indicating the proprietary nature of the disclosure and (ii) non-tangible disclosures are identified as confidential prior to disclosure and reduced to writing, marked as provided above, and delivered to the receiving party within thirty (30) days of the original date of disclosure.
