

LICENSE AGREEMENT AND LIMITED PRODUCT WARRANTY RED HAT LINUX 8.0 PROFESSIONAL EDITION

Please read this document carefully before installing Red Hat® Linux®, any of its packages, or any software included with this product, on your computer. This document contains important information about your legal rights. By installing any or all of the software included with this product, you agree to the following terms and conditions.

GENERAL

As used herein, "EULA" means an end user license agreement, and "Software Programs" means, collectively, the Linux Programs and the Third-Party Programs, as each of those terms is defined herein.

Red Hat Linux is a modular operating system made up of hundreds of individual software components, each of which was individually written and copyrighted. Throughout this document these components are referred to, individually and collectively, as the "Linux Programs." Each Linux Program has its own applicable end user license agreement. Most of the Linux Programs are licensed pursuant to an open source EULA that permits you to copy, modify, and redistribute the software, in both source code and binary code forms. With the exception of the content of certain image files identified below, the remaining Linux Programs are freeware or have been placed in the public domain. To understand the applicable EULA for each Linux Program, your rights under it and to realize the maximum benefits available to you with Red Hat Linux, you must review the on-line documentation that accompanies each Linux Program. Nothing in this license agreement limits your rights under, or grants you rights that supercede, the terms of any applicable EULA.

The "Office and Multimedia Applications CD" includes an assortment of applications from third-party vendors. Throughout this document each of these software components are referred to, individually and collectively, as "Third-Party Programs." Generally, each of these Third-Party Programs is licensed to you by the vendor pursuant to an end user license agreement ("Third-Party EULA") that generally permits you to install each of these products on only a single computer for your own individual use. Copying, redistribution, reverse engineering, and/or modification of these components may be prohibited, and you must look to the terms and conditions of the Third-Party EULA to determine your rights and any limitations imposed on you. Any violation by you of the applicable Third-Party EULA terms shall immediately terminate your license under that Third-Party EULA. For the precise terms of the Third-Party EULAs for each of these Third-Party Programs, please check the on-line documentation that accompanies each of them. If you do not agree to abide by the applicable license terms for these Third-Party Programs, then do not install them on your computer. If you wish to install any of these Third-Party Programs on more than one computer, please contact the vendor of the Third-Party Program to purchase additional licenses.

Red Hat Linux itself is a collective work under U.S. copyright law. Subject to the trademark use limitations set forth in this Agreement, Red Hat grants you a license in the collective work pursuant to the GNU General Public License.
