

Red Hat Enhanced Solution Support

Fast response time, access to senior technical engineers, and a 24x7 designated hotline

“When I think of Red Hat, the first thing that comes to mind is trust. We trusted them because we had seen their product. And whenever we needed help, support was available. The more support we got, the more trust we had. And that’s how the relationship has grown.”

Kersi Tavadia
CIO, BSE¹

Overview

Red Hat® Enhanced Solution Support helps you confidently deploy and scale your IT infrastructure with engineering-level support from senior Red Hat engineers who know your mission-critical environment. Before deployment, a Red Hat engineer will conduct a supportability review to ensure your environment is stable and supportable. You can contact product experts 24x7 through a designated hotline. Our specialists will help restore your operations and accelerate the path to final resolution. Enhanced Solution Support offers assurance that Red Hat will be there to assist with critical issues in production environments so that you can consistently deliver the cloud services your customers demand.

Benefits

- Speedy restoration due to Red Hat’s fast response time in the event of a production-critical issue
- Increased confidence because of restoration and resolution service-level agreements (SLAs)
- Efficient issue resolution with direct access to senior technical engineers who are familiar with your environment
- High availability of help through a designated contact phone number, available 24x7
